There has been much public discussion of corporate governance in Europe following the financial crisis and in Japan following the Olympus affair.

In this talk, the speakers will look at upcoming changes to corporate governance in Japan and discuss, in an international context, various theories and models that have been put forward and question whether particular frameworks can be said to be inherently superior to others.

We hope this topical subject will spark lively debate amongst members.

There will be an opportunity after the seminar to socialise and network together.

About the Speakers

Mitsuhiro Kamiya is the leader of Skadden's Tokyo Corporate practice as well as a member of the firm's Policy Committee, its governing body. He represents Japanese and multinational clients in a broad range of corporate matters with special focus on cross-border mergers and acquisitions and joint venture transactions. Mr. Kamiya's practice covers all major aspects of corporate transactions, such as advice on complex legal structuring of acquisitions and major legal issues including corporate, intellectual property, antitrust and labor laws. Mr. Kamiya was selected for inclusion by Chambers Global: The World's Leading Lawyers for Business, Chambers Asia-Pacific, Global Counsel 3000 and The Asia Pacific Legal 500.

Chizu Nakajima co-chairs the British Japanese Law Association, and directs the Centre for Research on Corporate Governance at Cass Business School, City University and the International Symposium on Economic Crime at Jesus College, Cambridge University. She is a Visiting Professor at BPP Law School, U.K. and the University of Free State, South Africa. Her research and teaching areas cover corporate law and governance, financial services law, comparative law and the control of financial crime, and her publications include international comparative works in these fields.

About the Organisers

The British Japanese Law Association ("BJLA") is a bilateral law association which exists to promote understanding and exchange of knowledge between British and Japanese lawyers. It holds regular lectures, seminars and social events in London.

The Japan Society is the leading independent body in the United Kingdom dedicated to the enhancement of the British-Japanese relationship. Its large corporate and individual membership is committed to promoting deeper and lasting understanding between our two countries. It organises a wide breadth of events and has a strong educational focus.

FTI Consulting is one of the world's most highly regarded communications consultancies. With more than 25 years of experience advising management teams in critical situations and 700 expert strategic communications consultants in more than 25 key markets around the world, it helps clients use their communications assets to protect, enhance, develop and defend their enterprise value.
